

... this nation will survive...

...for decades to come...

...consider and meet our obligations...

Our deep spiritual confidence that this nation will survive the perils of today - which may well be with us for decades to come - compels us to invest in our nation's future, to consider and meet our obligations to our children and the numberless generations that will follow.

- John F. Kennedy

For being a continued source of confidence and hope, and for your support of the CFC of Louisiana, we thank you!